In consequence of the bonds and bonds held by the State on various Rail Road Companies, having been in part executed during the late war, I have concluded not to offer them for exchange until the reception of special instructions from the General Assembly.

I have deferred the time of opening bids, in order that parties interested might have opportunity of examining the reports of the various Companies for the present year, which no doubt can be obtained from the proper officers of the Companies.

INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDERS.

Scientific men, who thoroughly understand the subject, concur with great unanimity in saying that nothing exerts such a deleterious influence against health as bad bread. The remedy is at hand in "HYSONS INFALLIBLE YEAST POWDER," the value of which is thus certified:

RALEIGH, Aug. 24, 1866.

I have tested the Yeast Powders you manufacture and can recommend them as vastly superior to any other ever used by me. In addition to the lightness and sweetness of the bread, the powders are economical, as one-third the lard usually required will answer in the making of either loaf bread or biscuit. For pastries and cakes they are excellent.

VIRGINIA A. ORR.

The price of these powders per package is 25 cts. or 75 cts. per pound. To be had at "Wm. Simpson's" Confectionery store, Fayetteville Street, Raleigh, N. C.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

This is to certify that I have used Mr. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them to be superior to any I have ever used. After trying them once, no house keeper will be satisfied without them.

MRS. S. D. HARRISON.

RALEIGH, Aug. 23, 1866.

I have tried Mr. Wm. Simpson's Yeast Powders and find them very good.

THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, SEATON GALES. } Editors.

Saturday Evening, Oct. 27, 1866.

To Those Who Owe Us.

A considerable amount is due on our books, both for advertising and old subscription, which we need, and which we hope our friends will forward to us, at farthest, by the members coming to the Legislature.

4t.

Our Railroads.

The spirit of our people, though hampered by great losses and trammelled by existing responsibilities, is neither broken or crushed. Finding, after long delays, disappointed promises and hopes of quiet and a real settlement of our National difficulties, they are turning their thoughts away from the turmoil of politics and the contests of those who assume to hold in their hands the political destiny of the South, to the more substantial and auspicious results of labor and manly enterprise, and are concentrating their energies upon the physical development of their individual and State resources.

They are not indifferent to the results of the political contest now being waged, nor by any mean callous which way the scale turns, but having done their duty and filled up the measure which their return to their allegiance to the government demanded, they will henceforth await the result, without further sacrifice of time or honor.

Looking at the permanent improvement of the State and the opening up of greater facilities to market for the immensely accumulating products of the State, which the vigorous application of new energy, skill and enterprise will develope, we find a growing interest in the completion of the Railroads already projected in the State and the inauguration of new ones.

Our Western people are, and our Eastern people should be, deeply interested in the completion of the great Central Railroad connecting Tennessee with the ocean through the heart of this State. This, though not an air line, furnishes the nearest and most direct route from Memphis on the Mississippi to the Atlantic.—Such a road would not only connect directly our own seaport towns with the Mississippi, but would open to them the great resources of our own Western Counties and the great wealth of East Tennessee. It would lead at once to the building of feeders for the great Central in various directions, and bring out in a few years the hidden treasures of those regions which have heretofore been locked from the commerce of the world. To this would soon follow the employment of regular European steamers from our own seaports. The value of a Railroad penetrating the heart of East Tennessee, running westward, has long been felt, and we observe the Richmond papers are directing the eyes of Virginians to this important point.—This is unquestionably the great leading object of those who would see North Carolina quickenning her footsteps on the road to prosperity.

The Wilmington and Rutherford Railroad has been already pushed so near to completion, that every effort should be made to effect it, so soon as it can be done. Recently the project has been revived, with a commendable spirit, of extending the Western Railroad from Fayetteville to Greensboro', and the friends of the Chatham Railroad, connecting this city with the Coal and Iron mines of Deep River, are looking anxiously to the re-commencement of the work on that Road, and its early completion. With all these, with the roads now in operation, North Carolina may hope to accomplish more towards her own physical and industrial improvement in the next ten years than in the last thirty.

To accomplish this will demand a large outlay of means. How are they to be obtained?—We answer, "where there is a will, there is a way," and "what has been done may be done again." Wherever capital can be profitably employed, it will surely follow in that channel, and whenever the capitalists of the country are made sure of safe and profitable investment, they will not hesitate to furnish it.

Large Farms or Plantations.

The day for large, overgrown farms for cultivation in great bodies has passed. When, in days past, large plantation owners could furnish slave labor to cultivate, and means to stock large farms, it was deemed a wise economy to add field to field by felling the forest, opening up large tracts of new land, or adding by purchase. Those days can never return to the South. If it were wise in the past to adopt that policy, which is more than doubtful, it can never be so again. Indeed, the immense destruction of our forests to procure these extensive fields was a serious mistake, as will soon be found by the new policy, which must be adopted, in dividing the lands into smaller farms in order to procure their cultivation.

If certain, reliable labor were at hand, at reasonable rates, this system might be partially kept up so long as Southern products demand inflated prices, but so soon as ante-war prices shall become the rule, as must certainly be the case in a few years, agriculture must be conducted upon a different and a more profitable scale than the past or present. We are inclined to the opinion that if all the large farms could be made available for smaller tenantures, that the next ten years would exhibit a far more encouraging spectacle to the large land-holder, than he can realize from the old system. The rapid improvement in the skill and management of small farms, it strikes us, would become patent to every one, and instead of large, worn out, unproductive fields, so much the rule in former days, they would soon be substituted by small, neat, flourishing and improved farms.—This is a subject which many of our intelligent land-holders are pondering. We should be glad to spread before our readers their matured thoughts.

The President's Policy.

Hon. Mr. Browning, Secretary of the Interior, has written a most able letter in defence of the President and his policy. The Standard copies a brief extract from it as follows and appends the subjoined unfounded attack upon the Conservatives of this State:

"With every disposition to be charitable towards those who differ from me in opinion, it is difficult to believe them sincere in charging the President with the intention of violently forcing rebels into Congress, and giving them the control of the Government. What act has he ever done that gives the slightest sanction to such a charge? Not one can be specified. He has neither transcended his own powers nor invaded those of the co-ordinate departments; and the only pretext for the charge is, not what he has done, but what he has said, in declaring again and again his conviction that it was the duty of Congress to obey a plain constitutional provision, and each House for itself to judge of the elections, returns, and qualifications of each individual presenting himself as a member."

"We assure Mr. Browning," says the Standard, "that the expectation is general among the Destructive leaders in this State, that the President will notify the Southern members elect to appear at Washington in December next, to claim their seats. These leaders are counting on the President to do some violent, revolutionary act, by which they can obtain seats in Congress. This appears to be their only hope in this respect."

Mr. Holden asserts positively, in the above statement, what, if it were true, we suppose we would know quite as well as he. We assure Mr. Browning that the above statement is not correct as applied to the Conservative men of North Carolina—the supporters of President Johnson. What the Destructives, who are led by the Standard, desire or expect, we pretend not to be advised; but no intelligent supporter of the President expects him to go an iota beyond the Constitution for the benefit of the South, nor do they desire it. Our members of Congress, not one of them we presume, anticipate any movement whatever on the part of the President beyond his plain constitutional duty, to put them into position—nor do they indulge the slightest hope of admission into Congress, so long as the Radicals can keep them out.—They have all quietly settled down at their several vocations to make a support, leaving events to the future. The Standard speaks falsely when it asserts to the contrary, as in the above instance.

FORNEY attributes the reluctance of the Southern States to accept the provisions of the Constitutional amendment solely to the influence exerted on them by the Editors of the South. The press of the South will accept this as a high tribute. A few days since, however, Greeley asserted that the "ablest papers" of the South were favoring the amendment. If this were so, Forney's statement is, to them, a compliment "over the left."

Forney is right in one respect. But very few papers of character or influence at the South endorse the Howard amendment. We are proud to know this. And as one of the press, we gladly shoulder all the responsibility that may attach to us, for counselling the people to reject the disunion proposition known as the Howard amendment. But the people need no advice from the press in this respect. Their native instincts of honor, manliness, self-respect and devotion to Republican liberty would cause them to spurn it.

"Is it true" that these gentlemen (the Editors of the Sentinel) are not serving the Confederate policy "for naught?"—Standard.

When the "Confederate policy" was the policy of the government under which we were, we supported it "for naught." We never urged our people to blood and involved them in trouble, and then ignominiously deserted and betrayed them.

We now serve the Federal government, with Andrew Johnson as its head and chief, "for naught." Neither San Salvadorean, or any other temptations, could induce us to serve the disunion and revolutionary policy of Congress.

WILKES COUNTY.—It will be seen that this County, contrary to the general expectation, gives a handsome majority for Governor Worth. If there was any one County in the State, which the Radicals confidently expected to carry, it, was Wilkes. If we are not very much mistaken, Messrs. Smith and Bryan, of the late Convention, were the candidates of the extreme Radicals in Wilkes. If so, their defeat is greatly to be rejoiced at. Messrs. Horton and York are the members elect.

45TH. SENATORIAL DISTRICT.—We are greatly gratified to learn, after all the doubt upon the subject, and, indeed, after our impression to the contrary, that J. Henry Hill, Esq. is elected to the State Senate from this District, and has received the certificate of election. A friend writes us from Statesville as follows:

MESSRS. PELL & GALES:—The votes were counted and polls compared, at Taylorsville, by the Sheriffs of Iredell, Alexander and Wilkes, yesterday, and J. Henry Hill declared elected by a majority of one vote and awarded a certificate of election. Mr. C. J. Cowles was premature in resigning his post as Councillor of State to occupy a seat in the Senate. I notice that the Standard says that "if Mr. Cowles has been defeated, his defeat has been owing to the bullying and threats of certain destructives in the District." This is of a piece with all the Standard's facts,—false! The foul play was all on the other side. An investigation would bring to light the grossest corruption on the part of some of the friends of Mr. Cowles, by which means his vote was largely increased. With the Standard it is the old cry, "Stop thief!"—But it won't do, Billy. Mr. Hill is a gentleman of fine abilities, unexceptionable in all respects, and will make a useful member. P.

Oct. 26th., 1866.

COMPLIMENT.—Our neighbor, the Standard, professes to be complimented at the rumor we published a few days ago, about the Vice Presidency on the Radical ticket. We did not believe in it, though we heard that our neighbor had said so. As to ourselves, we have no ambitious aspirations, either Federal or Confederate. Our being connected with the chaplaincy and Vice Presidency of the Confederacy is about as likely as his connection with the Vice Presidency of the United States. Not more so.

New York.

The election in this State takes place on next Tuesday week, the 6th. prox. The tone of the Conservative press is very hopeful as to the result. Mass meetings are being held all over the State, and Hoffman, the Conservative candidate, is conducting the canvass with ability and vigor. Fenton, the Radical incumbent, declines to meet him. Success in New York will go far towards arresting the tide of Radical fury. The following spirited rallying article from the New World has the right ring about it:

"THE DISUNION LINE BREAKING!

"The Radical line in this State is breaking.—Courage and confidence have passed out of the leaders,—hope is passing from the rank and file. The Radical line is wavering and breaking.

Now, Union men! for the fortnight to come, redouble every effort! Canvass more closely.—Labor with the hesitating—the enquiring. Refuse to be diverted from the real issue,—the restoration of the Union,—the preservation of self-governing democratic institutions in all these free thirty-six States. Assail the party of eternal sectional hate, the fomenters of civil strife, the perverters of 'the war for the Union,' the prolongers of discord. Spread the truth of the law among your neighbors; advocate among them the spirit of brotherly love and kindness and forgiveness and concord towards our Southern kinsmen, brave, conquered, impoverished, despairing.

Show your tax-paying neighbors how they are sweating money every day the South is kept out of the Union, and the restoration of secure peace, civil order, and a hopeful future is delayed to them. Show them how to set all the wheels of a prosperous and profitable industry agoing at the South, and thus enable them to share and lighten our stupendous burden of taxes.

Count up our friends to the very last voter, and begin now to arrange for securing the presence of every one of them at the polls.

The Radical line is wavering and breaking. Push on the Union column.

Another fortnight of work like the last, and victory is ours, triumphant victory, planting great New York steadfastly for the Union of thirty-six free, co-equal, represented States.

Push on the Union column. Let us give the Disunionists an utter rout!"

Good Advice to the South.

We call the special attention of our readers, and especially those who are ready to swallow the Howard amendment as the "best we can get," if there are any, to the following extract from an able article of the New York World, in reply to the question, "Ought the Southern States to adopt the amendment?" There is a sobriety, self-possession and force about the World which we fail to find in its city cotemporaries generally. Here the World:

"If we might take it upon us to advise our Southern fellow citizens, we would counsel them to reject the proposed amendment; to yield quiet obedience to all constitutional laws; to maintain order; to protect and encourage the freedmen by equal law; and to abstain as carefully from agitating questions of federal politics as if they had no concern in them. Their only hope of redress is in Northern justice. When it becomes evident that they are determined to await this with dignified reserve; that they will neither humiliate themselves nor disturb the peace of the country; that they will furnish no food to agitation, but quietly demean themselves as law abiding citizens, and patiently await the result; and that nothing will shake their resolution not to be parties to their further humiliation, the Radicals will be embarrassed and non-plussed. The odious responsibility of keeping the Union permanently dissolved will come home to that party, and make it the object of general detestation. It will be seen that the great loyal communities which constantly practice justice and obey the laws, are deprived of rights plainly given them by the Constitution. The public sentiment of the country will remonstrate against and redress the wrong. The Radical party could not stand two years against the dignity, determination, and the respect for public order which we recommend to the South. We disclaim the officiousness of intruded advice; for we have no doubt that under the form of a recommendation, we are expressing what the South will spontaneously do of its own accord. But we trust it is not impertinent to express our opinion of the effects such conduct will have on the public sentiment of the North. It is only because many honest citizens are deluded to believe that Southern ratification of the amendment is possible, and may be the speediest method of restoration, that the Radicals have thus far retained their ascendancy."

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I beg a place in your columns to pay a deserved tribute to a worthy and efficient public officer.

In the single item of the distribution of the laws of the last General Assembly, R. W. Best, Secretary of State, saved the State some $900, more than three fourths of his salary for the entire year.

In the election last year, between Messrs. Worth and Holden, only some fifteen counties were heard from within a week thereafter, and many were sent in informally.

The election on the 18th. was just one week ago, and I learn that fifty-eight counties have been heard from officially, and every one in form. This in consequence of the management of R. W. Best.

In the election on the ratification of the Constitution, a few months ago, the returns from 26 counties were informal.

In every respect, he is the best officer I know of. N. B.

Butler has been invited to address the citizens of Binghampton, N. Y., and a special committee has been sent to urge his acceptance of the invitation. At the possibility of his coming, intense and universal alarm has spread among the people of that quiet and honest village. Men are tinkering up old locks, trying the working of rusty keys, and carefully putting away their valuables.

For the Sentinel.

In the Cemetery in Beaufort, on a marble tablet, one an antique looking head piece of grey, moss-covered stone, surmounted by a marble cross, is the following inscription:

"To the blessed memory of CHRISTIAN WULFF, Captain in the Royal Danish navy. Born in Copenhagen, in Denmark, July 31, 1810; died in Beaufort June 7, 1856."

"He is not here but risen."

The deceased is represented to have been a pious member of the Lutheran church, a good officer, and a noble hearted man. He arrived at this port, accompanied by his sister, Henrietta Wulff, in an English barque, in June 1856, intending to travel through the United States. Being ill, he took lodgings in Beaufort, at Mr. King's Hotel, where he received kind attention and medical aid. But he hourly grew worse until the appearance of black vomit, in profusion, disclosed a frightful case of yellow fever, which soon terminated in death. He was buried near the Methodist church where he still reposes.

The lonely broken-hearted sister returned to her home in Copenhagen, and sent out the monument for the tomb. As time rolled on, her sorrowing spirit yearned for the spot where her brother slept; and in 1858, she piously resolved to make a pilgrimage to his tomb! She was a good scholar, and wrote English well.—In a letter dated June 1858, to a lady in Beaufort, she said: "I need not tell you how often my thoughts are wandering to that far distant place where my dearly beloved brother reposes in God, under the shadow of that weeping willow you planted at his head, and the rose bush at his feet."

In August of that year, at Hamburg, she embarked on the ill-fated steamer, Austria, for America. The steamer had four or five hundred passengers on board, and when far out at sea took fire and was burnt to the water's edge! The details of that disaster form one of the most awful chapters in the history of the sea.—While the flames were spreading Miss Wulff, and a lady who was traveling with her, seeing they must make choice between a horrible death by smoke and fire and a less painful one by drowning, chose the latter, and, embracing each other, they leaped into the sea together and were seen no more. COMMENTS OF THE PRESS.

The Baltimore police commissioners and their recent conduct still engages the attention of the Northern press. We annex a few extracts from the leading papers:

[From the New York Times.]

We agree with the Evening Post in thinking that the police commissioners in this case have put themselves at a great disadvantage by taking ground that is utterly untenable. If they have committed no official misconduct, they should have met the charges and refuted them. By denying a jurisdiction expressly conferred by law, they half acknowledge the justice of the charges preferred against them.

[From the New York Herald.]

These squabbles are local in their character and affect only a set of scheming political adventurers. The good sense of the people is against them. They will be readily put down if they should result in an actual outbreak, and the laws will be vindicated and enforced. But they are none the less a disgrace to the national reputation, and the miserable demagogues who incite them should be held to a strict accountability. Woe to them if they excite too far the anger of an indignant people.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Could we believe Mr. Johnson capable of acting without reference to party, and impartially discharging his duty, we should be rejoiced. But if he intends to uphold Governor Swann, why did he not sustain Governor Wells? In what respect is the Governor of Maryland better than the Governor of Louisiana? In Louisiana, Mr. Johnson chooses to act as if the Governor did not exist, and forbids the military to interfere with the arrest of the members of the Convention legally called by the Governor. In Maryland, he appears to promise an army before the Governor has asked it. It is plain that the President values the law only as the instrument of his policy, and takes it up and throws it down as his prejudices determine. What reason can he give for this determination? Is he candid enough to admit that he crushed Gov. Wells because he is a Radical, and supports Gov. Swann because he is not.

The National "Intelligencer," in commenting upon the Radical change in the tone of the Baltimore American, says: "Instead of threatening the Governor with an army of resistance, the American begs the Executive not to resort to force to execute the law, but to content himself with abjuring his authority and his sworn duty, and resorting to some other mode than that prescribed by the law for the removal of the malfeasant commissioners. It kindly undertakes to show the Governor how he can let these commissioners enjoy their offices until after the approaching State election, and cites the proceedings in the removal of the old Police Board of 1859. The American forgets that there is no analogy whatever in the two cases; that the old Police Board of 1859 held office under a different law, and that in the settlement of that very case the authority of the Governor to remove the present police commissioners was definitely determined. This is an unfortunate reference on the part of the American, and includes virtually an admission of all that is claimed for the Executive authority. It is gratifying, however, to know that the American has discovered that "there is no occasion for any force being exercised in the matter," and that, since

"Grim-visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front;
And now—instead of mounting barbed steeds,
To fright the souls of fearful adversaries"

the American and its co-workers have concluded not to arouse the mighty North, nor "to drench the streets with blood," but to shrink for protection behind some quibble of the law, whose penalty for treason and rebellion they have so nearly incurred.

The Baltimore Sun refers editorially to the situation of affairs in that city, and says:

"If the misguided people whose conduct has given rise to the apprehensions which have been expressed, and has called forth the executive warning, have been induced thereto by the foolish expectation of intimidating the Governor of the State, it is to be hoped that the proclamation which he has issued will satisfy them of their error, and the sentiment with which it has been received will convince them that they have utterly deluded themselves and libelled the manhood of the people of Maryland.

The hearing will take place to-morrow, and the case will hardly be completed within a day. Men will have time to comprehend fully the true issues involved, and to disabuse their minds of all the idle notions that a conspiracy has been formed and is to be executed against the liberties of America, simply because two officials have been put on trial for official misconduct according to the due course of law. And the lawless conspirators against the repose of this community will have leisure to reflect upon the consequences, should they in any contingency exchange the character of quiescent citizens for that of deliberate felons."

GENERAL NEWS.

The New York Herald's Baltimore special correspondent says that attempts are being made to secure indictments against John W. Forney; also the editor of the Baltimore American, and the Police Commissioners, for an attempt to incite a riot and insurrection. The witnesses are already summoned, but the grand jury have not yet acted.

The New York papers contain gratifying information of the improving value of Southern securities. In the New York market, Southern stocks of all descriptions are much sought after. Financial arrangements have been made by many of the leading States of the South, which will assist materially to place their finances upon a secure and advantageous basis. [From the Selma (Ala.) Messenger.]

A little business in the Court-house led me to inquire into the financial condition of this portion of the country, and I learn that sheriff's sales are becoming so common that almost no purchasers are found for the valuable lands and other property exposed for sale. A gentleman informed me that some twenty farmers had been sold out lately, their lands bringing less than one dollar per acre. A sad instance of the reverse of fortune produced by the war was mentioned in the case of old Mr. Prowett, of this county, whose estate was sold out on the first Monday in this month. At the breaking out of the war he was the wealthiest citizen of Tuscaloosa county. He owned three hundred and sixty slaves and large tracts of land. He had large sums of money out at interest, secured by mortgage on negro property and land. He was a homespun, economical countryman, who bought everything at the lowest price for cash. He paid his physician's bills before the doctor left the house. When General Croxton came to Tuscaloosa he took from this old man some forty head of horses and mules, all his money, provisions, &c., which was his first calamity. Next came emancipation, which swept his slave property. Next came the breaking up of all the men to whom Prowett had loaned money or for whom he stood security. Finally an execution was levied on his property for a few thousand dollars, and all his real estate was sold under the sheriff's hammer for $600."

Funeral Procession.

Yesterday we saw passing through the streets one of the largest funeral processions ever witnessed in this city, and we may say one of the most orderly—that of Byrd Taylor, a very respectable colored man, and a Presiding Elder in the colored Methodist Church. He was well known in this community, and was much respected for his good conduct both before and since the emancipation. He was buried in that portion of the city cemetery appropriated to persons of color, and was followed by a well dressed and orderly procession of over 800 persons. We were particularly struck with the neat and decent appearance of the colored persons who followed him to his final resting place.

The former slaves in this community, as a general rule, are respectful and polite to the whites, and act so as to cause their former masters to take a deep interest in their welfare.—They have several schools, and are making progress in education and the arts of civilized life, and so far from throwing obstructions in their way, everything is done to assist and advance them.—Charlotte Times.

THE SENTINEL.

Saturday Evening, Oct. 27, 1866.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See announcement of W. B. Williams, Deputy Collector of U. S. Revenue.

W. S. Webster announces himself as a candidate for Principal Doorkeeper of the House of Commons of the ensuing Legislature.

A. W. Fraps, Dealer in Furniture, Fayetteville Street, calls attention to his large and elegant stock of furniture. He also announces that he has added to his other business that of undertaking. We have heretofore noticed the new and handsome two horse hearse, which he has provided.

W. Robert Andrews, Wholesale and Retail Grocer, Fayetteville Street, is now in daily receipt of fine Norfolk Oysters.

Wm. Grimes, Esq., offers for rent, the ensuing year, his magnificent plantations in Pitt. Here is a splendid opportunity for enterprise and industry.

Pulliam, Jones & Co. make several important announcements.

OYSTERS are selling in Richmond at one dollar per gallon. We presume that they are even lower in Norfolk. In this City, they have commanded two dollars per gallon. This is entirely too high, but we presume that, as the season advances, the price will come down.

PLOWS.—Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co. have on hand, at their foundry, an extensive assortment of plows of several varieties, suited to the demand. They are manufactured by them for the trade.

THEIM.—Mr. Theim, at the "Temple of Fancy," has the greatest variety of queer, comical, nice things ever imported here. Some of his importations are direct from Europe.

ACCOMMODATING.—The public are greatly indebted to the accommodating spirit of Messrs. S. Smith & Dr. T. D. Hogg, the proprietors of the fine grist mills at Weldon, for a full supply of nice white meal, which is carried to every man's door in a neat waggon, and supplied, on the lowest terms, at the order of the customer. It is a great convenience to the community, and we learn it is their purpose to afford the same accommodations to the people of Warrenton, Goldsboro' and Wilmington.

HIS EXCELLENCY, Gov. Worth, arrived in this city last evening from his visit of inspection to the Albermarle and Chesapeake canal.

WE ARE indebted to Oliver Ditson & Co., Musical Publishers, Boston, for a copy of their Jubilate,—a valuable collection of sacred music for choirs, schools, &c. It is compiled by Emerson and is said to be a superior arrangement.

THE MARKET, this morning, was bountifully supplied with almost everything in the edible line, in profusion. We have never had, in Raleigh, so well provided a market before. We notice, every morning, numerous bales of cotton from the surrounding country brought in for sale. Buyers are plenty, and the staple readily commands from 30 to 31 cents, nett.

N. C. CONFERENCE.—We are requested by the pastor of the Methodist Church in this city, Rev. Mr. Hudson, to state that he will take pleasure in providing accommodations for any of the ministers, who may visit Raleigh, and who will remain over until Monday the 5th of November on their way to Conference. And, further, that vehicles can be obtained here to carry fifteen or twenty persons, from this city to Jonesboro, on the Coal Field Railroad, at $4 for each passenger.

ARRIVALS AT THE EXCHANGE HOTEL, Oct. 26, 1866.—Dr. S. D. Turner, Ky, D. A. Fenton, D, Lowenthal, Baltimore, J. M. Clarkser, N. Y., C. P. Cardozo, Norfolk, Mrs. Lawrence, Miss A. Bell, Dr. H. E. Lewis, J. H. Baker, Edgecombe, J. G. Ramsay, Rowan, Mrs. Pillen, Mr. Pillen, Mrs. Taylor, Morehead City, Gen. W. G. Lewis, Wake Forest, Dr. John Wilson, Mr. Watt, Mebanesville.

THE PRICE OF GAS.—The present prices of gas in the cities of different parts of the United States, with the government tax added, are about as follows: In Albany, $3,75; Baltimore, $3,30; Boston, average, $2,60; Brooklyn, average, $3,50; Buffalo, $3,50; Charleston, $5; Chicago, $3,80; Cincinnati, $3,50; Detroit, $4; Jersey City $4; Louisville, $3,33; Lowell, $3,75; Milwaukie, $4; Newark, $3,75; New Orleans, $5,50; New Haven, $3,75; New York, average, $3,16; Philadelphia, $3,15; Pittsburg, $1,60; Providence, $4,25; Richmond, $3; St Louis, $4,17; Syracuse, $4,25; Washington, $4,-19. The prices range from $2,80 to $5 per thousand cubic feet on the Atlantic side, and from $10 to $12 on the Pacific coast. Pittsburg is the only city where the price is so low as $1,60 per thousand cubic feet. The price in Norfolk is $6; and in Portsmouth $8.

[We clip the foregoing information from an exchange. The price in Raleigh, we believe, is $10 per 1000 feet.]

The Transportation of Coal Again.

We observed a few days ago, in the Sentinel, (the issue of the 18th. we think,) where they were speaking of the coal business, they mention the lack of transportation as being one of the reasons why that business has not made more progress.

We think that, in fairness, the Sentinel should have made some more particular and discriminating statement. They are calculated to mislead, very naturally, those who are not acquainted with the facts as we stated them some weeks ago. The railroad having been built to transport the coal and being in immediate connexion with the mines, leaves the impression on the minds of those who are not informed that the need is there and not further off—on the ocean.

But we have no idea that when the proper time comes, there will be any difficulty in getting the coal to market. And the time must arrive soon. If it is not sent abroad for consumption, it must be consumed on the spot, in manufacturing, which is a thousand times to be preferred.—Fayetteville News.

State News.

——At the meeting of the Stockholders of the Wil., Char. and Ruth. R. R., in Wilmington, on Thursday, the following gentlemen were elected Directors, viz: Messrs. R H Cowan, H W Guion, S J Person, Jno. A McDowell, W L Steele, S W Cole, S H Walkup, E Nye Hutchinson, A G Logan, R S French, A H VanBokkelen, A. R. Homesly, and C C Henderson.

Col. Cowan was, of course, re-elected President. The salary of the President was fixed at $3,000 per annum in gold. The next annual meeting will be held in Lincolnton, on the third Wednesday of October, 1867.

——Maj. D. S. Hill, of Franklin County, is representing North Carolina in a Convention of the friends of Temperance at present in session in Lynchburg, Va.

——Gov. Worth left Norfolk, on Thursday morning, on his tour of inspection through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal. He was accompanied by a large party of gentlemen from the city, among whom were Marshall Parks, Esq., and Senator E. C. Robinson.

——The Rocky Mount Flouring Mills, perhaps the largest and best in the State, which were destroyed in 1863 by the Yankee raiders, have been rebuilt by their enterprising proprietor, Mr. W. S. Battle, and are again in successful operation. The large cotton factory of Mr. Battle, located at the same place, which was also destroyed, has been rebuilt, and will soon resume operations.

——The Salisbury Banner says that there was ice in that place on yesterday. Was it in an ice-house?

——The Argus says that small lots of the new crop of cotton are finding purchasers in Wadesboro. Sales are made at 27 cents, tax unpaid,—equal to 30 cents, tax paid. Owing to the obstructions thrown in the way by the new law, and the rigid regulations under it, but little is being shipped off.

——The Circus attracted a crowd in Charlotte, but not near so large as in former days.—The Times says "our people are learning economy, and really it is high time to do so."

——The Salem Press says that the white-oak mast has never been more abundant, within the recollection of the oldest men, than it now is. A great help in time of need, the corn crop being short.

——During the past season, E. A. Vogler, of Salem, shipped North three hundred thousand lbs. of dried apples; one hundred thousand lbs. dried blackberries; and about ten thousand pounds of dried peaches; amounting, in all, to four hundred and ten thousand pounds. W. L. Fulkerson shipped twenty-two thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds of blackberries, and forty-one thousand pounds of apples; in all, sixty-three thousand seven hundred and fifty pounds.

Add the two summaries, and we have exported from Salem, says the Press, four hundred and seventy-three thousand pounds of dried fruit, which brought greenbacks into the place to the amount of about sixty-two thousand three hundred and seventy-seven dollars!

More than they Bargained for.

The constitutional amendment is advocated by the Radicals on the ground that it will equalize representation in Congress. George F. Comstock, Esq., an effective Conservative stumper in New York, calls upon them to join hands with him in securing a more general equalization of representation. He points to the case of the New England States. Their whole population numbers some 3,000,000, while New York alone has over 4,000,000. Yet New England has twelve Senators and New York only two. Nor is this all. In any case where an election of President goes to the House of Representatives, New England, under the Constitution as it now stands, casts six votes, while New York casts only one. Thus each man in New England has five times as much political power as each man in New York. Rhode Island has one electoral vote to every forty-five thousand people, while New York has one to each one hundred and odd thousand. If the discussion of this constitutional amendment shall result in causing New England to be shorn of the power which she has used to oppress all the rest of the Union, we shall not regret that it was commenced. It will be the old story repeated of "the engineer hoisted with his own petard."—Richmond Dispatch.

TO TEACHERS.

The Trustees of the Oxford Female Academy desire to make arrangements with a competent teacher to take charge of that institution, at the close of the present year. It is pleasantly situated in the town of Oxford, in one of the most healthful sections of the State; it has been in successful operation for more than fifty years, and has perhaps educated more young ladies than any other similar institution in the State.

The trustees will make liberal terms with a competent teacher, who can come well recommended.

Applications will be received until the 10th. day of November next, when a choice will be made.

A New and Grand Epoch in Medicine!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the (so-called) remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggil's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble, it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is announced that Maggiel's Billious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhoea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin, Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 11 Pine St., New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

The Louisville Journal says: "The testimonials which Dr. Gardner presents to the public could never have been obtained, except by the display of great skill and learning in his profession. One thing especially commendable in the Doctor's practice is, that he will not attempt an incurable disease for the sake of a fee, but frankly tells the patient whether he can be cured or not. We cheerfully recommend Dr. Gardner to the attention of all our friends who may be suffering from diseases of the eye or ear.

The Richmond Times says: We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gardner is the most scientific and successful eye and ear Surgeon in this country.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too patent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

We can only assure the public, that its quality is carefully kept up to the best it ever has been, and that it may be relied on to do for their relief all that it has ever done.

Great numbers of Clergymen, Physicians, Statesmen, and eminent personages, have lent their names to certify the unparalleled usefulness of our remedies, but space here will not permit the insertion of them. The Agents below named furnish gratis our American Almanac in which they are given; with also full descriptions of the complaints they cure.

Those who require an alterative medicine to purify the blood will find AYER'S COMP. EXT. SARSAPARILLA the remedy to use. Try it once, and you will know its value.

Prepared by J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by

SOMETHING NEW

UNDER THE SUN.

A New Era In Medicine!

☞ Let the Suffering and Diseased read the following.

☞ Let all who have been given up by Doctors, and spoken of as incurable, read the following.

☞ Let all who can believe facts and can have faith in evidence, read the following:

Know all men by these presents, That on this, the Twentieth day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-Six, personally came Joseph Haydock to me, known as such, and being duly sworn, deposed as follows: That he is the sole general agent for the United States, and dependencies thereof, for preparations or medicines known as MAGGIEL'S PILLS and SALVE, and that the following certificates are verbatim copies to the best of his knowledge and belief.

JAMES SMEITER,
L. S. Notary Public,
Wall Street, New York.

June 1, 1866.

DR. MAGGIEL:—I take my pen to write you of my great relief and that the awful pain in my side has left me at last—thanks to your medicine. Oh, doctor, how thankful I am that I can get some sleep. I can never write it enough. I thank you again and again, and am sure that you are really the friend of all sufferers. I could not help writing to you, and hope you will not take it amiss.

JAMES MYERS,
116 Avenue D.

This is to certify that I was discharged from the army with Chronic Diarrhœa, and have been cured by Dr. Maggiel's Pills.

WILSON HARVEY,
New York, April 7, 1865. 27 Pitt Street.

The following is an interesting case of a man employed in an Iron Foundry, who, in pouring melted iron into a flask that was damp and wet, caused an explosion. The melted iron was thrown around and on him in a perfect shower, and he was burnt dreadfully. The following certificate was given to me by him about eight weeks after the accident.

New York, Jan. 11, 1866.

My name is Jacob Hardy; I am an Iron Founder; I was badly burnt by hot iron in November last; my burns healed, but I had a running sore on my leg that would not heal; I tried Maggiel's Salve, and it cured me in a few weeks. This is all true, and any body can now see me at Jackson's Iron Works, 2nd Avenue.

J. HARDY,
119 Georick Street.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF

DESIRABLE DWELLING, NICE TOWN

LOTS, AND A TRACT OF LAND

Near Warrenton, N.C

As executor of Dr. Hugh J. Davis, to effect a division among his legatees, I shall sell to the highest bidder, on the 15th day of November, 1866, at his late residence, in the town of Warrenton, N. C., the DWELLING HOUSE and LOT. Also a Lot in front of Dwelling, and a Lot adjoining the Court-House square; and a tract of Land about two miles distant from Warrenton.

The Dwelling is in cottage style, containing ten rooms, and has two basements. Near the centre of the town, surrounded by magnificent oaks, it is in one of the handsomest locations in Warrenton, on a lot of about four and a half acres, having an ample yard and garden well inclosed, with Stables, Kitchen, Smoke House, Dairy, Carriage House, Corn Crib, Servants' House, two good Offices in the yard, a well of excellent water, and is bounded by four streets. This square is sufficiently large, and so arranged as to be divided into two beautiful Building Lots, fronting towards the main part of the town. The Lot in front of the Dwelling is enclosed, contains over an acre, without any building, and is bounded by three streets.

The lot in rear of the Court-House fronts on the street about one hundred and ninety-two (192) feet, and contains about three-fourths of an acre. This lot has a Store, with several rooms, at the north corner, a residence in the centre, with several rooms, and an office with two rooms at the south end.

The tract of Land contains two hundred and eleven acres, in original growth partly, but mostly in second growth pine, and is situated on both sides of the main road to Clark's Bridge. Being so near Warrenton by a good road, this tract is valuable for its fire wood, having been reserved for this purpose, but would make a nice farm.

Possession of Dwelling and Lots given on first of January, 1867, and the tract of Land given up at sale.

Terms—On the Dwelling, five hundred dollars cash, and on that and the rest of the property a credit of twelve months, from day of possession. Bonds, with satisfactory security, required and title withheld until payment. Inquiries answered.

THE NATIONAL UNION BUSINESS COLLEGE

WASHINGTON, D. C,

Offers superior advantages for a thorough Business Education.

The course of instruction embraces Commission, Importing, Jobbing, Retailing, Bank and other Book-keeping, Commercial Law, Arithmetic, Correspondence, Spencerian Penmanship and Business Practice.

PENMANSHIP is taught by Henry C. Spencer, the leading author of this system, and celebrated as the Editor of the "Spencerian Key to Practical Penmanship," adopted by nearly all first class Colleges as the standard of criticism. Unusual facilities are here presented for acquiring this valuable art.

The system of "BUSINESS PRACTICE," originated and successfully taught by the Proprietor, receives his special attention. This is the most valuable part of the course. Here the student applies his theoretical knowledge. He buys and sells representative mdse, makes out notes, drafts, invoices, &c., deposits College money in the College Bank, and checks it out as his business requires. Becoming, in turn, Retailer, Wholesale, Forwarder, Banker, he soon acquires a knowledge of business forms, learns to compose and condense the history of every transaction and thinks for himself. He is thus prepared for actual business.

Full scholarship, good for review at any time, with Life Membership in this Union of Colleges extending to the principal cities, only $45. Books and stationery extra.

For circulars giving full information, for specimens of Penmanship, of the College currency and merchandise.

M'ILWAINE & CO.,

WHOLESALE DEALERS IN STAPLE & FANCY DRY GOODS.

No. 79 Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Virginia,

TAKE PLEASURE IN INFORMING THEIR friends and the trade generally that the steady increase of their business has rendered it necessary for them to add two rooms to their Dry Goods Department, together with a large and convenient entrance from Tabb street, which arrangement gives them a most spacious Sales-room, well lighted, and enables them by this increased accommodation to add largely to their Fall Supply.

They beg leave to invite particular attention to their extensive assortment of

made to order under the supervision of Mr. A. S. SHAFER, whose long experience in this department of business, in this city, has made him familiar with the wants of Merchants in Virginia and North Carolina. Anticipating a heavy Trade this Fall, their stock will be found unusually large, embracing a general assortment of

American and Foreign

STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS,

together with a full line of

which having been purchased for cash, they have no hesitation in saying to the Trade, that they are prepared to offer such inducements as will insure satisfaction.

Capt. EDWARD GRAHAM and Mr. JOHN McNEECE have charge of this Department, and will be pleased to exhibit our stock to buyers visiting this market.
